WAYNE THOMAS.

Wayne Thomas of Steckman, Pa. son of Samuel and Margaret Thomas was born in Bedford Township, Bedford county, Pa., on Nov. 22, 1852, and departed this life Sept. 16, 1917, aged 64 years, 9 months and 24 days.

On Aug. 6th 1879 the deceased was united in marriage to Susan A. Means to which union nine children were born, four of which preceded their father to the grave.

Deceased was unfortunate in early life, his father having died through illness contracted in the Civil war. His mother who then lived in the state of Wisconsin, being driven from her home and forced to lose all her property, started overland by a single wagon locating at what is now the city of Greenville, Illinois. Finding that she was unable to support her children she brought Wayne to Pennsylvania and left him first in the care of Adam Beegle of Friends Cove and later to Godfrey Mench of Menchtown. The unfortunate circumstances surrounding his early youth prevented him from acquiring much education but through diligent effort he learned to read and write.

The greater part of his life was spent on the farm and only once did he venture away from his chosen occupation and that was 1897 when he engaged in the operation of a threshing outfit.

In 1903 he was appointed post master of Steckman, which position he held to the time of his death.

Deceased was for many years a member of the Lutheran church. Besides a wife he leaves to mourn her death, two brothers, David of York, Neb. and Samuel M. proprietor Nebraska and Samuel M. proprietor of the Thomas House, Greenville, Illinois, one stepson, John A. Means, farmer living at Steckman and the following children:

Harry B., assistant to the supt. of the Aetna Chemical Co., of Gary, Ind., Mary E., wife of W. T. Grove, Lydia. A wife of Marshall O'Neal, both of Steckman and Minnie E. and Maggie E., at home.

Funeral was held on Wednesday morning from the residence at Steckman, interment being made in the cemetery adjoining the Frame Church, Rev. Slonaker, of West End, officiating.

The deceased came from Nebraska to the Flathead in 1900, locating on a ranch a mile and a half from Kalispell. Later he moved to the city and purchased a home on Fourth avenue where he had lived until 1909, going then to Spokane. A few years later he returned to Kalispell, where he lived until his death. He was a Civil war veteran, enlisting in 1864 as a member of Co. A, 184th Regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers. At the battle of the Wilderness, near Petersburg, Va., his company was all captured but himself. He was then detailed by the colonel to drive a team of six mules, which he did until the close of the war. He is survived by three sons, Clarence of this city, Charles and Oliver of Spokane and a daughter who lives at Wenatchee, Wash. Jacob Bowers is a brother and Mrs. Elizabeth Corle is a sister of the deceased. Both reside near New Paris, Pa.

CHARLES F. MOCK.

Charles F. Mock, formerly a citizen of near New Paris, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Harrison of Twin Rocks, on September 11, 1917, aged 62 years, 5 months and 1 day. He was brought to the home of his son Sherman Mock on the evening of the 13th. NEWS REVIEW OF THE PAST WEEK

Dramatic Revolt of Korniloff Against Russian Government Collapses.

KERENSKY AGAIN IS VICTOR

Sweden Makes Feeble Reply to Lansing's Disclosures of Unneutral Action and He Exposes Conduct of Its Former Charge in Mexico.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

Another of the swift, dramatic episodes with which Russia has been startling the world was unfolded last week. For several days it seemed that civil war would be added to the woes of the struggling young republic, and then, as suddenly as it appeared, the storm cloud dissolved and the provisional government emerged apparently stronger than before.

General Korniloff, commander in chief, demanded full power, was promptly removed by Premier Kerensky, and marched on Petrograd with considerable body of troops. Several officers having refused the position, Kerensky himself took the chief command, the capital was put in a condition of defense and loyal troops were sent out to cut off Korniloff from the northern fighting line, which is now considerably east of Riga. The Baltic fleet, the army in general and most of the officials hastened to assure the provisional government of their support.

Then came Korniloff's collapse. The main part of his army consisted of the so-called "Savage division," fierce Mohammedan troops from the Caucasus and Georgia, who were uninformed of their destination or Korniloff's aim. Loyal coreligionists induced them to submit to the government on condition that they be sent back to the Caucasus and not be compelled to fight against the Turks. Korniloff thereupon informed the government that he was ready to surrender.

Cause of the Revolt.

The conflict really was between the conservatives and the more radical elements in Russia. The former hold that the government has shown itself incapable of restoring order and effectiveness because it is hauled this way and that by the workmen's and soldiers' committees and has allowed them to destroy discipline in the army. Kerensky himself holds the confidence and trust of all, but he is far from being the dictator that he has been represented as being, and has been too tender hearted to carry out his own bold words as to restoration of the death penalty and other necessary repressive measures.

This latest revolt, however, has hardened the premier. He caused or ordered the arrest of all the leaders and generals opposed to the provisional government, suppressed the Novoe Vremya and other newspapers that favored Korniloff, freed imprisoned Bolsheviks who promised to combat the rebels, declared a state of war in Moscow and its environs, and flatly refused to enter into negotiations to bring about a compromise between the provisional government and its opponents.

On Thursday the Russian cabinet was reconstructed with the Social Democrats in full control, and at the same time the northern army got into action and moved back toward Riga, driving in the German advance patrols.

Sweden's Feeble Reply.

"Yes, we did it, but no one asked us not to," is, in a sentence, the Swedish foreign office's statement in reply to Lansing's charges that it had been transmitting Germany's messages from Buenos Aires to Berlin. With this weak answer neither Argentina nor the allies are satisfied, and the Swedish nation feels humiliated. The Swedish government is clinging to its neutrality, for the German minister to Argentina is increasing

Count Luxburg, the German minister who advised that Argentine vessels be "spurious verhehrt"—sunk without a trace being left—has been given his passports and the Argentine minister in Berlin has been instructed to ask the imperial government for a full explanation regarding Mr. Lansing's disclosures and as to its present policy of sinking Argentine ships. Argentine officials say that there will be a diplomatic rupture if Germany does not disavow the text of Luxburg's dispatches and make concessions concerning U-boat warfare.

In Buenos Aires the people wildly cheered the news of Luxburg's dismissal and then broke out into anti-German rioting, attempting to burn the buildings of the German club and a German newspaper and destroying several blocks of German business houses. Semiofficially Germany has admitted the truth of Lansing's statements, but denies there was a violation of neutrality on Sweden's part, and says the disclosures were made by the allies only to produce a new crisis in the relations between Argentina and Germany and to make trouble for Sweden.

Another Exposure by Lansing.

On Thursday Mr. Lansing added to Sweden's discomfiture by making public a translation of a letter dated March 8, 1916, from German Minister von Eckhardt at Mexico City to the imperial German chancellor asking that the emperor confer a decoration on Folke Cronholm, then Swedish charge d'affaires in Mexico, in recognition of his services in forwarding Von Eckhardt's reports to Berlin through the Stockholm foreign office and under cover of the official Swedish cipher. The minister urged that the decoration be conferred secretly in order not to arouse the suspicions of the entente allies. Cronholm was replaced as Swedish charge last February but has remained in Mexico City.

These revelations seem to make unnecessary any further search for the secret channel through which Berlin was informed in advance of the dispatch of American destroyers to European waters and of other American war movements.

Secretary Lansing is said to be in possession of further sensational facts, but during the rest of the week he sat tight, waiting for Foreign Minister Lindman and his colleagues to justify their action if they can. The Swedish press admits that the people of the country are proving themselves to be what the Germans call them—"silly Swedes."

On the Battle Fronts.

Increasing resistance by the Austrians checked the advance of the Italians toward Lemberg and Trieste last week, but it was at tremendous expense in casualties and prisoners to the enemy. The severest fighting was for the possession of Monte San Gabriele. After being pushed back down its slopes early in the week, the Italians climbed up again and firmly withstood repeated attacks. A little further south, on the Bainsizza plateau, the Austrians were no more successful in their fierce assaults.

All along the west front there were artillery combats, trench raids and fighting in the air, but neither side made any ground gains of moment. The allied aviators were especially busy with bombing expeditions and flight patrols. Many tons of explosives were dropped on airfields, railway objectives and docks back of the German lines.

American Artillery in France.

The war department permitted it to be known Thursday that a large contingent of American artillery has been added to General Pershing's expeditionary force in France and that its intensive training with the French 75s and six-inch howitzers is well under way. There have been many reports, derived from private letters, that the American troops already have been engaged in various battles, but the government has given out no intimation that these are true. As such fighting could scarcely take place without some casualties, and as Secretary Baker has promised to publish casualty lists promptly, the stories probably are untrue.

chaser, whose design is so secret that it is called the "hush boat," and which is proving most effective in combating the U-boats. The American destroyers are still giving efficient help in the work.

New Cabinet in France.

The demands of the Socialists brought about a change of ministry in France last week, but this in no way weakened the government or its conduct of the war. Premier Ribot and his colleagues resigned and Paul Painleve, who was minister of war, became premier, and after several vain attempts succeeded in forming a ministry that was fairly satisfactory to all factions. Painleve and the new cabinet are pledged to prosecute the war to final victory and to wipe out the stains of German propaganda that led to the resignation of Minister of the Interior Malvey and ultimately to the downfall of the Ribot ministry. Henry Franklyn-Bouillon, president of the French parliamentary committee of foreign action, who is now in this country, says no one doubted the patriotism of the Ribot ministry and that its fall means a wider participation in the government by all political parties and represents the will of the people to make the government as strong as possible for the effective prosecution of the war.

Warning Against German Scheme.

Following its raids on the L. W. W. and other pro-German agencies, the government through Secretary Lansing issued a warning that Germany is disseminating insidious peace propaganda in this country designed to halt our preparations for war. The headquarters for this work is at Zurich, Switzerland, and it is being carried on here by German spies, certain German-Americans and pacifists. Mr. Lansing intimated there would soon be some sensational arrests, and said the secret service had possession of startling evidence. In line with this was the raid by government agents on the offices of the Philadelphia Tageblatt and the arrest of its editors. The documents seized showed the paper was involved in a conspiracy against the United States and received regular money contributions from some one in Mexico, and that the war "news" it published was deliberately faked to bolster the German cause and injure America. In the correspondence found were letters from Senator La Follette and several other prominent men in congress.

The work of disloyal German-American papers was given a hard blow by the senate on Wednesday. The trading with the enemy bill was passed with an amendment making unlawful the printing of war comment in the German language without a complete English translation in a parallel column. Other provisions in the bill interdict commerce between Americans and Germans or their allies, extend the presidential powers over exports and imports and enlarge espionage powers.

For Conscription of Allies.

The senate on Wednesday adopted the Chamberlain resolution which makes subject to military conscription a million or more aliens now resident in the United States. Senator Stone of Missouri, consistently maintaining his bad record, made the only speech in opposition to the resolution.

Under the terms of the resolution it would be possible to call into military service aliens of draft age, except nationals of Germany and its allies and nationals of countries exempted from such service by treaties.

An amendment adopted at the last moment, however, provides that subjects of Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey may be drafted for nonmilitary duty. The subjects of the central powers are exempt from military service under the draft law.

Secretary Baker has announced the perfection of the "Liberty" motor, the engine that will drive America's war planes. It was designed by two celebrated engineers in five days, and in 28 days an engine had been completed and set up in Washington. The parts were made in factories all the way from Connecticut to California and were assembled in a western city. Full tests have led the government to accept it as the best aircraft engine produced in any country. Its parts are standardized and the problem of repairs and maintenance is simplified.

The senate on Monday passed the war revenue bill, greatest of its kind, totaling $2,411,670,000, and on Wednesday the house passed it to conference.

BIG BATTLE FOR GABRIELE

ITALIANS AND AUSTRIANS STRUGGLE FOR COMMANDING PEAK.

Austrian Mountain Northeast of Gorizia Changes Hands Again and Again.

London.—More fiercely than at any time since the beginning of the Italian offensive the battle is now raging to the northeast of Gorizia. Monte San Gabriele is the prize for which the opposing armies are struggling. Unofficially reported as having been taken by the Italians, it develops that the Austrians are again in possession of the summit to this stronghold—the sentinel of Gorizia which dominates both the Isonzo Valley and the southern part of the Bainsizza plateau.

Several times, according to despatches from Austrian headquarters, the Italians have captured the summit, but have been hurled back down its slopes each time. Nevertheless, they gradually are taking all the surrounding supports and destroying little by little the network of fortifications which the Austrians have spread along this section of the battle front.

After the Austrians recaptured the summit for the last time there was a respite in the fighting, but soon the Italians renewed the attack. Six times, in mass formation, they stormed up the sides of the height.

The strong resistance of the Austrians is due to reinforcements transferred from the Russo-Romanian and Balkan fronts. They have been brought up in large numbers to strengthen the Austrian line not only northeast of Gorizia but northwest of Hermada in the Carso area.

In the Hermada sector the Austrians have gathered the flower of their force, for should their positions there fall, the gateway to Trieste would be thrown wide open. Because of this their counter attacks around the village of Selo have been as desperate as those at San Gabriele.

WHISKEY MAKING STOPS.

Most Distilleries to Produce Alcohol for Munitions.

Washington.—Eleven o'clock Saturday night sounded the death knell of the manufacture of whiskey and all other distilled liquors in the United States. It was also the deadline for the receipt of any more imported liquors.

A British steamship brought to New York on Saturday 15,000 gallons of Scotch whiskey, the last that can be imported before the food conservation law goes into effect. The consignees' agents put a large force at work so the cargo could be ashore and cleared through the Custom House before Sunday. It was the largest single shipment ever received at that port.

The elimination of the manufacture of alcoholic liquors under the Federal edict put out of business 605 distilleries that were engaged in the manufacture of these beverages. Government officials say a large number of these plants will be converted into manufacturing establishments for the production of industrial alcohol, and others will be made into munition plants.

Experts say about 100,000,000 bushels of grain are used by the distilleries each year, of which about 40,000,000 bushels go into whiskey manufacture.

Up to a short time ago the government levied a tax of $1.10 on each gallon of whiskey. Now it has added $2.10 per gallon, making the tax on a gallon $3.20. Rectifiers pay an additional 15 cents, making a total of $3.35 on every gallon of whiskey which the rectifier handles.

Hogs were scarce and medium quality sold between $17.40 and $18.60. The highest price was $18.80. Demand for hogs was good and the average price was higher by from 15 to 25 cents.

Go, winter! go thy ways! We want again
The twitter of the bluebird and the wren;
Leaves ever greener growing, and the shine
Of summer's sun—not thine.

Thy sun, which mocks our need of warmth and love
And all the heartening fervencies thereof,
It scarce hath heat enow to warm our thin
Pathetic yearnings in.

Get from us utterly! Ho! Summer then Shall spread her grasses where thy snows have been,
And thy last icy footprint melt and mold
In her first marigold.

President No Despot Ruler nor Given Power to be One

Washington, D. C.
During the last month certain Members of Congress have been professing grave anxiety because of the trend of recent legislation centralizing authority in the hands of the President and because of the extent to which this power is being conferred. They have been asserting, day after day, that our whole system of Government is being overruled; that the very principles upon which this Government is founded, are being discarded; and that we are in imminent danger of conferring upon the head of our Government greater autocratic powers than are possessed by any despot ruler in the world today.

However it is clear that the great mass of the people refuse to become alarmed and are totally out of sympathy with these professed defenders of democratic principles. The great rank and file of the members of the House and Senate in Washington, both Republican and Democratic bear with complacent confidence the course of events. There is no doubt that the Country at large is very much provoked at the delay and procrastination of Congress in enacting needed and vitally important legislation but is a credit to the two great political parties in this Country that during all these months of protracted and bitter debate political considerations have played little if any part in progress of legislation.

The attitude of the majority of Republican Members of Congress is well shown by a statement made by Congressman John R. Scott of Pennsylvania, which clearly reflects this attitude.

Nearly the entire membership of Congress and the great mass of people throughout the United States said Congressman Scott, have implicit confidence in the President. No greater service was ever rendered to this Country by any political party than was rendered by the Republican Party in forgetting all political differences with the Administration, laying aside all political considerations and standing squarely behind the President since the declaration of War. In fact it can be properly stated that since the war started the President has received greater support from the Republican members of Congress than he has from his own Party and it is well known that the President and his own Democratic leaders in Congress have done more to obstruct legislation than any other incident without Republican support very few of the administration Bills would have passed.

It is recognized that if the full strength of this Country is to be thrown into the balance, if our resources are to be utilized to their fullest efficiency, it will be necessary to centralize authority, and who is more entitled to have this authority than the man who has been elected President of the Country? At least one lesson has been learned from the European Countries during their experience of the last three years and that is that efficiency can be obtained through unquestioned, undisputed, untrammelled centralized power and authority, that can make swift decisions and act quickly and thoroughly. See all its decisions. Debate and Anged discussions may have their her in time of peace but they are Gerpiant of demoralizing in time of war. Germany had this lesson at hand at the beginning of the war, France and England have since learned it but at a tremendous cost.

"Already much harm has been done by the delay in passing needed war legislation and unless Congress learns to act more quickly we will suffer irreparable damage. What we want are results and quick action. Every executive head in this Country should be given fullest authority and told to go ahead. If one doesn't get results remove him and get a man who will. The President should be given the fullest authority and he in turn should delegate that authority in such manner as he sees fit. The responsibility for the means should be upon the President, the ends have already been defined.

"Irreparable damage has already been done through the Goethels-Denman bickerings. There is no question of doubt that either of these men, given the fullest authority, right or wrong, could have obtained less harmful results than has the delay resulted from inexcusable controversy."

PURPOSE AND POLICY OF THE BOYS' WORKING RESERVE.

The war has caused a great shortage of labor in the country. To meet this shortage it is necessary to call out the Reserves of labor consisting of those persons not ordinarily employed at all or not fully employed. These reserves must be organized, prepared as well as possible, and held in readiness for service as the need arises. One of the most important divisions in this reserve is composed of boys between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one years, of whom there are in the United States several million not usually engaged in productive or other useful service.

The key note of the Reserve Idea is the preparation of boys for immediate service when the need arises.

What it is.
The Reserve is a national emergency organization created by the United States Government. It is administered by the U. S. Department of Labor. The purpose of the Reserve is five-fold:

1. To enroll and organize properly qualified boys, between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one, for all suitable and needful forms of productive and valuable service.
2. To help the boys to make proper selection of the forms of service for which they will prepare.
3. To provide the instruction and training necessary to prepare the boys to render such proposed service effectively.
4. To place the boys in the forms of service for which they are best fitted.
5. To afford the boys every possible safeguard against exploitation and physical and moral injury, both in and out of employment.

Any boy who is not less than sixteen nor more than twenty-one years of age may be enrolled as a member, provided:

1. That he obtain the consent of his parent or guardian.
2. That he be free from communicable disease.
3. That he subscribe to the oath of service.

A boy engaged in agricultural work for his own profit or working for his father on a farm, or in gardening, is eligible to enrollment, provided, he is rendering adequate emergency service.

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR

Italian troops have taken from the Austro-Germans the fortified hill of Dol and the Gargaro basin, and now occupy the slope and top of Monte San Gabriele after severe fighting. The Italian embassy in announcing the capture, said it is the greatest victory gained by the Italians since their entrance into the war.

Capture of all Austro-Hungarian positions on Monte San Gabriele is expected to be a matter of hours. The fighting in the region of the forest of Tarnovo was very severe, as the Austrians had assembled an enormous force of artillery there. The positions there were taken by infantry attack at heavy cost to the Italians.

The battle has been raging twenty days. Last week the Austrians changed from defensive and began an offensive, using masses of their best troops against the Italian positions. The loss of San Gabriele will mean for the Austrians, the embassy says, the loss of all the vantage points against the Gorizia plain and the Frigido valley.

"The Italian losses in the eleventh Isonzo battle," says an official statement issued by the Austrian war office, "have reached almost 250,000, including 20,000 prisoners."

The Russian army is driving back toward Riga along a wide front. Within the last five days it has advanced more than seven miles, the Russian embassy in Washington announced.

The whole Russian military establishment is being re-organized under General Alexieff and discredited commanders are being ousted.

Official word that responsibility for the Korniloff defection has been fixed upon his advisers instead of himself, is regarded here as an indication that the famous Cossack chief will not pay the death penalty for his crime. The cables say the Russians are forcing retention of more German troops on the east front now than at any time since the war began.

The Frie Zeitung of Berne publishes an article from an Austrian official, who traveled through several sections of this country, in which the writer states that Austria-Hungary cannot hold out the coming winter owing to economic reasons, as both soldiers and civilians will be starved.

He gives several reasons, notably the almost complete destruction of the crops in the richest regions of Hungary by the cold, heavy rain, while 30,000 tons of Rumanian cereals could not be transported owing to lack of rolling stock, which, first of all, is utilized for military purposes. In the meantime, he says, the necessities of life are mounting to extraordinary prices.

WOULD FREE BELGIUM

Reported That Berlin States Willingness In Pope's Note.

Reply of the central powers to Pope Benedict's peace note was received by the Vatican, according to well informed officials in Rome.

It was reported the reply favors "absolute independence for Belgium," demanding that King Albert's country "be independent of all military and economic alliances."

Formal announcement of the receipt of the Teutonic reply and information as to whether it was a joint or group answer was withheld by the Vatican.

Enlistments For Navy Halted.

The navy has become so overcrowded that Secretary Daniels has ruled college men can return for this winter's training, though they will be called back to actual service next summer when more ships and stations will be available. Enlistment for the navy has halted because of the number of men on hand who cannot be accommodated in ships and stations.

SEVEN BILLION WAR BILL PASSES

Secretary Baker Likely to Ask Senate for Increase to $8,000,000,000

UNANIMOUS VOTE IN HOUSE

Great Totals Are Carried for War Purposes, and Formality of a Roll Call Not Necessary in the Measure's Passage.

Washington, D. C.—Unanimously and without the formality of a roll call, the House passed the $7,000,000,000 war deficiency bill, which carries appropriations for the national defense and for carrying on the war, granting ungrudgingly everything deemed necessary by those charged with the responsibility of winning the war. This bill as it left the House carries a total of $4,830,000,000 in cash appropriations, together with authorizations to expend $2,314,000,000 more. Of this total the military establishment gets $3,500,000,000 and the naval establishment $263,000,000.

The bill also carries large increases in the appropriations for the shipping board to acquire the emergency fleet. A national emergency fund of $100,000,000 is appropriated to be expended by the President. The sum of $35,000,000 for naval aviation is appropriated, and $4,000,000 is given to meet the extra expenses of carrying out the provisions of the selective draft law.

The bill now goes to the Senate where prompt action is hoped for. An increase of one billion dollars may be asked for by Secretary Baker.

Calvaryman Convicted of Murder.
St. Albans, Vt.—Robert Warmer of Pottstown, Pa., United States cavalryman who has been on trial here charged with the murder of his sweetheart, Jennie Hemmingsway, aged 14, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in the county court.

Moratorium Introduced in House.
Washington.—The administration moratorium bill to protect civil rights of soldiers and sailors during the war was introduced in the House by Chairman Webb of the judiciary committee, to which the bill was immediately referred for action. It is pending in the Senate.

Firemen Caught In Blaze.
Bristol, Va.—Two firemen were injured and two others are believed to have perished in a fire which destroyed five large buildings in the warehouse district here, causing a loss estimated at $150,000.

Longshoremen On Strike.
New York.—Longshoremen, members of the International Longshoremen's Union, went on strike here as the result of a disagreement regarding the reinstatement of a foreman objectionable to the men. It was claimed by the leaders that between 4,000 and 5,000 had quit work.

Kingdom Gould in New Draft.
Toms River, N. J.—Kingdom Gould son of George J. Gould, will be among the 169 recruits for the National Army who will mobilize here, preparatory to entraining for Camp Dix at Wrightstown.

Uncle Sam as Mine Boss.
Washington.—Representative Jeanette Rankin, urging a favorable report on her resolution authorizing the President to take over and operate metalliferous mines, told the House mines committee that Montana miners favored government operation rather than working for owners who treat them badly.

Record Snake-Killing Day.
Logan, W. Va.—The record snake-killing for a single day in West Virginia, so far as the records go, was made by a party of 11 young men at Man, in this county. They came upon a snake den and killed 46 rattlesnakes and 10 copperheads in one den, and they were able to kill only half of those they saw, the others escaping.

President Urges Children to Join.
Washington.—President Wilson issued a proclamation calling upon the school children of the nation to do their part in the war by joining the Junior Red Cross to assist in the mercy work of the senior organization.

Recognizes New Republic.
Buenos Aires.—Argentina has recognized the new republic of Russia. President Irigoyen signed a decree to that effect.

Nearing Barred By Cincinnati Police.
Cincinnati.—Scott Nearing of Toledo will not speak at Central Tower Hall in this city. The police received orders instructing them to prevent Nearing from delivering his address, "Eight Million Dead." The owners of the hall were notified that the hall must not be rented for such purposes. Safety Director Friedlander stated: "No meetings that tend to interfere with the avowed purpose of the government in connection with the war will be permitted in this city."

300,000 MEN OFF FOR CAMP

Big Contingent of Draftees Starts For Training

ANOTHER CALL TO BE SOON

Whole Nation Astir Today as Young Fighting Men Begin First Lap of Journey to Battlefields in France.

Marched for the last time as civilians and under civilian authority, more than 300,000 men of the national army went forward Wednesday to the sixteen cantonments to be trained for the battle against German autocracy. Their next move will be as fighting men toward the battlefields of Europe. The whole nation is astir with the movement of the selective forces. The men represent approximately 45 per cent of the total quota under the first call from each of nearly 5,000 local boards. Already at the camps is the advance guard of five per cent of the total, composed of experienced men, including cooks. Out of this has been created a skeleton organization into which the second increment will begin to be absorbed tomorrow with little confusion. When the last men of this increment arrive the camps will house half of the first-call forces, or 343,500 men, and the other half will follow as rapidly as quarters and equipment are made available.

The war department says the enormous task of obtaining equipment and supplies for the army is moving satisfactorily. Some of the men of the national army may be only partly equipped for some time after they are mobilized, and no attempt will be made to furnish them with full war equipment until the eve of their departure for Europe. Some civilian clothing, such as overcoats, will have to be used for a time, as the clothing industry has not yet caught up with its work. With the mobilization of one-half of the 687,000 men of the first call under the selective service law in progress, the question arises as to whether that number of men will be sufficient to fill all units of the national guard and national army. There are indications that a deficiency in men will be disclosed when official reports from all the thirty-two training camps are available.

Seventeen divisions of the national guard have been organized, but with the exception of the New York, Pennsylvania and a few others, and the Forty-second division which soon will embark for France, they are not at maximum war strength. The fighting strength of the seventeen divisions under the new tables of organization would be 623,000 men, supplemented by many thousands of auxiliary troops. Whatever deficiencies there are will be supplied promptly from the national army, as the guard will go first to the front.

Since the president called the first 687,000 men of the national army, the signal corps, including the aviation section, has been greatly expanded. Nearly 100,000 additional men must be transferred to this service alone. The medical corps also has been greatly increased, and numerous necessary auxiliary units for immediate duty abroad, not thought of when the call was made, have been organized. When enlisted men of the guard or the regular army have been taken, their places will have to be filled with national army men.

So far as known, no definite figure as to the probable total deficiency in men has been compiled nor any estimate prepared in the absence of complete reports from all guard divisions and auxiliary corps. It is not unlikely, however, that when the national army divisions are organized, many vacancies will be found at the cantonments.

FALL OF SLATE KILLS MINER

Six Others Injured, One Seriously at Sunnyside Workings.

One man was killed and six others were injured, one seriously, in a fall of slate at the Sunnyside mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, at Sunnyside, two miles north of Monongahela, Pa., in Allegheny county. The men were engaged in cleaning up slate and coal which had fallen a few days ago, and while removing roof timber, the roof collapsed.

George Shrockman, 23, of Sunnyside, had his head and body crushed due to being buried under the fall.

Feared Desertion Charge.

Fear of being charged with desertion according to the police led to the attempted suicide of Harold E. Kester, aged 20, sailor on the battleship Kansas, who is recovering in a hospital in Philadelphia after taking poison. While on a visit to relatives Kester overstayd his leave and, or going to the port where his ship was stationed, found the ship had sailed.

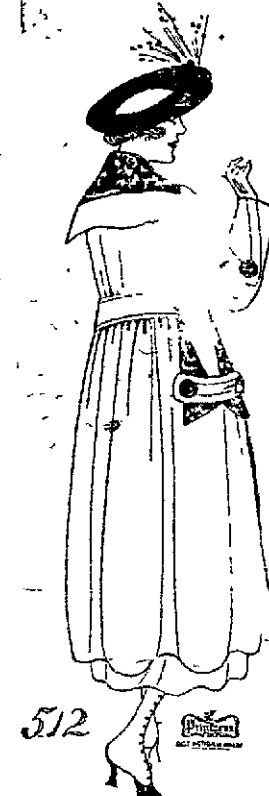

Draftees Killed on Railroad.

Herbert Brown, twenty-two, was killed, and Ollie Dunlap, twenty-three, lost both legs when they were struck by a near Dubois. They were under order to report here Thursday as members of the second draft contingent from Clearfield county district No. 2. They were returning home from a farewell reception in their honor when the accident occurred. Dunlap will die.

FIELD ARTILLERY.

Camp Handcock

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 16, 1917.

Editor Gazette:—

We left Pittsburgh, Aug. 20th, at 9:30 p. m., came via Cumberland, Hagerstown, Roanoke, Va., and straight thru the Carolinas. We were about forty-eight hours on our trip, distance about 800 miles. The trip was pleasant, lots of strange scenery, especially swamps and cotton fields, water melons too. We were equipped in Pullman coaches with porter service, were fed well and arrived without a sick man.

We were the first Battery on the field. We got on the train about 3 p. m. I thought the hottest day I ever passed. We were loaded with our equipment. Had about one mile to go from Depot to our division. Every step I made I sank into sand almost to my knees, fortunately the officer in charge sank into the sand too so we marched slowly. When we got to our camp we were met by The Four Wheel Drive Motor Truck Co., Harrisburg, Pa. Everybody was on the job and we soon had the whole train unloaded and was ready for supper. I might add right here, that those auto trucks are powerful. It is nothing uncommon to see them loaded with 3 or 4 tons and cutting the sand to the hubs. It is almost impossible to stall them.

After we got our tents pitched our next duty was to clear off the trees, except for being so hot, that was easy the soil is nothing but quick sand, (surely covered by ocean at one time.) We could pull any kind of a tree.

The camp is a wonderful sight, covering 1000 acres or more, laid out like a city. There has been about 3000 men, civilians working on camp nearly all negroes, as the camp is about completed that number has been greatly reduced. I noticed in Augusta paper that one weeks payroll amounted to $70,000.

The troops are nearly all here now, altho I haven't seen or heard anything of Co. L, 8th Reg. yet. The Batteries are all here. They are composed of three divisions: 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, and six Bats to division. The first division of which I am a member, is made up of three Batteries from Pittsburgh, B. E. F. and three from Eastern part of state A. C. D. each battery has about 190 men and as many horses. The guns are nearly all 3 inch cal., but they are being exchanged for larger and more powerful, French model.

When the Penna. boys get fitted up which will be in 16 weeks, they will cause some of those "nackers" to feel ashamed for every man is working and training conscientiously to have a good organization, for it is believed that the time is already set, and not far a head, that we are going to France.

The conduct of the boys is fine both around camp and town. I have not heard of any arrests in town and there are from 3000 to 10,000 men on these reets nearly every night. That is causing the Augusta people to throw open their homes to us. Every Sunday they pick up a bunch of boys and take them home for dinner. It is most uncommon for auto to come around in evening, take some boys out for ride. In few words these people are devoting their time to making us enjoy ourselves.

One thing more I want to say about army life. It is thought by so many people, that the army will make a "bum" out of a man, that is untrue. There is nothing that raises a man's morals or better his physical condition so much as the army, that is if you try to be a soldier. The sanitary condition around camp is better than it is possible to be around home. Our tents are inspected each morning at 7 o'clock, when everything must be clean and in order. Twice a week we have a body inspection. Once a week a general personal appearance inspection, when each man must have clean shave and hair cut, shoes shined and uniform in first class order. We go into the man that falls in line who is not fit for that inspection.

Now I must close. There are so many things around camp to tell about so I'll tell more next time, I am,

Sincerely yours,
CECIL O. SNYDER.

Our Difficult Language.

Apropos of the difficulties that our foreign-born friends experience in learning "United States," a subscriber writes: "A boy born a Dane and raised in a German family came to me and said: 'Will you borrow me your wheelbarrow?' and when he saw me smile he said, 'I mean, can I lend it from you?'—Outlook.

acknowledging a shipment of knitted garments

Sept. 6th, 1917.
Miss Cora McGurr, chairman,
Bedford Branch of the Navy League, Bedford, Pa.

My dear Miss McGurr:

Your letter of August 28th has been received, saying that you had shipped a box of 130 garments to the Philadelphia Section of the Navy League through the Emergency Aid. We are receiving garments here just the same as we ever did, and they do not have to go through the Emergency Aid or any other organization. We are, also, disturbing them to the men at the Navy Yard on board the ships, just as we did before any trouble occurred. The only thing is that we do not use the name of the Navy League in sending the things to the yard, but send them in the name of individuals and receive receipts signed by the Commanding Officers of the boats, which we have on file here in our office. This is for the time being, but I think that the matter will be straightened out in a satisfactory manner very soon so that we can send the equipments to the yard in the name of the Navy League.

The box which you speak of in your letter arrived in good condition, and I can assure you that it is deeply appreciated by the ladies here. I think that the Bedford county Branch of the Navy League has been doing wonderful work, and trust that the interest will grow as the women realize that winter is coming upon us and the men must have warm clothing.

Thanking you for all past favors,
Yours very truly,
M. A. DETWILER,
Executive Manager.
